Dearest Mom, Dad + Family:

Well here's the wandering young son once again ready to drop a few lines and find out how everyone at home is.

As for me every thing is just fine, things are really much more settled and stable since the last time I tried writing and my address won't be changing for sometime now for I'm to stay. I've really been seeing a lot of country and also very good times anytime I go ashore, specially at the end of the month or so. Went in to Glasgow a few times and met a most interesting party, so here's hoping I get a chance to get around there sometime again, no feeling she's really a smart young lassie, but just like a lot of others she wants to get married and make a home over there - some fun.

How about some questions of around home. Did Art finally get home for his leave & if how did he spend it and so forth? I sure wished we could have met or something before I came over cause there's so damn many things to ask and say that it just can't be done in letters. Where's Bernie now and what's he down to now to keep him busy and on the go? And Jim & Art my address and get them to drop me a line. How's the rest of the family all in the best of health and spirits I hope? Before I forget how is Lenore Judy, growing big and mischievous? Is there a chance of getting you people together and getting some snaps or something taken and send me some - you know I am kinda far away and would appreciate such from away down deep. How about thinking the matter over folks for I hope I'm still one of the gang. even though away from home. Would you mind reminding me to the others every now and again for I have written and

To all and everyone and received no answers and now and thoroughly disgusted with them & myself.
 What's new with Ray & family, I haven't heard any thing of them since I got home so pass on the good word.
 How have you & had been keeping Mom? I hope everything is ship sailing just fine, as for me please don't worry so much, too much cause things couldn't be much better and I've been feeling just fine except
 I don't hear from anyone as often now, but am gradually getting used to it.
